Major Duties:

The incumbent assists scientist(s) in one or more phases of the research process by performing a variety of duties associated with the support of research involving fire ants. Performs routine and recurring techniques and studies using a variety of specialized equipment. Operates and maintains the specialized equipment and automated systems used for testing and evaluating procedures. Services and cleans rearing equipment; and rears and maintains insect colonies, especially fire ants and phorid flies. Cleans rearing containers, rearing rooms, and laboratory space. Collects and sieves fire ant colonies; and parasitized fire ant workers. Uses dissecting scopes to estimate pupal production of flies. Keeps detailed records of experimental data. The incumbent obtains, tabulates, statistically analyzes, and summarizes research data using personal computers and software packages.

Working Conditions and Other Considerations:

The incumbent will work in the following environment:

The work involves regular and recurring moderate risks or discomforts which requires special safety precautions such as working with irritant chemicals, working outdoors, and working with insects.

Some work takes place outside which subjects the incumbent to exposure to different elements of the weather, i.e., high heat, humidity, wind and exposure to the sun. Incumbent should not be sensitive to fire ant stings and able to spend considerable periods of time using a microscope to count and sort insects.

Qualifications Required: Your education and experience will be evaluated against all qualification requirements (basic and any additional requirements) listed below.

Basic Requirements

GS-06: One (1) year of specialized experience equivalent to the GS-05 level in the Federal service, OR 1/2 year of directly related graduate education.

Specialized Experience - experience which has equipped you with the following Knowledge, Skills and Abilities - 'KSAs' required to perform the duties of this position:

1. Knowledge of biological science principles, and procedures pertaining to Entomology and/or biological control.
2. Skill in insect rearing.
3. Ability to operate and maintain laboratory equipment and instruments such as microscopes and autoclaves.
4. Ability to collect, maintain and summarize data.

If qualifying all or in part based on your education, please submit a copy of your college transcripts OR a list of college courses with credit hours, dates completed, and grades received. If this information is not provided, your education may not be appropriately evaluated and you may lose consideration for this position. If your qualifications are based in any part on education and you are selected for this position, you will have to provide an official copy of your academic transcripts prior to entering on duty.

Other Important Information

Benefits Package:

A Benefits Package is authorized for this position. Additional information about Federal benefits can be obtained at www.usajobs.opm.gov/ei61.htm.
